

CHICAGO MAN IS- SEASON'S FIRST DROWNING VICTIM

Jos. Jackson Topples From Boat at Deep Lake
Sunday Evening.

Joseph Jackson, 38, of Chicago, brother of John Jackson, owner of a resort on Deep Lake, was drowned Sunday night when he apparently lost his balance while fishing from a rowboat and toppled into the water.

Working with the aid of searchlights, a searching party recovered Jackson's body three hours after the drowning.

Jackson had come out from Chicago three weeks ago to assist his brother in the management of the resort. At 9 o'clock Sunday evening set out with a fishing pole and rowed to a point 200 feet north of the resort and 300 feet out.

People on the shore saw him topple into the water and hurried out into the lake. They dropped the anchor of the boat to show where the body went down.

Sheriff Doolittle, Gar Leaf, former life guard, and A. E. Sayles, life guard at the lake front beach, went out in hopes of recovering the body. They operated a set of grappling hooks.

Jackson had no children. It was the first drowning in Lake county this season.

INFLUENZA FATAL TO MISS MADELINE RAUEN

Daughter of Former Kenosha County Sheriff Dies Monday.

Death early Monday claimed one of the most widely known members of the Kenosha family when Miss Madeline Rauhen, 21, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rauhen, 2513 Sixty-third street, died at the Kenosha hospital. The news of her passing causes profound sorrow among her extended circle of friends and relatives.

Miss Rauhen had been in ill health for the past five weeks and she was removed to the hospital a week ago. She was unable to rally from an attack of influenza when complications developed.

The deceased was born in Spring Grove, Ill., April 15, 1907. She came to Kenosha with her parents 15 years ago. She attended St. Thomas school and later entered St. James school where she graduated. She was also graduated from the College of Commerce. For the past three years Miss Rauhen held a responsible position in the law firm of Richardson, Stephenson and Fisher. She made a host of warm friendships through her genial personality. Miss Rauhen was active in the work of many organizations where her ready helpfulness made her a prime favorite.

Surviving her are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rauhen. Mr. Rauhen was a former sheriff of Kenosha county.—Kenosha Evening News.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at 9:30 o'clock at St. Thomas church and burial was in the St. George cemetery.

Antioch Boy Is Volley Ball Star

Ralph James, former Antioch boy, has made a name for himself in the athletic world, through his connection with the Hyde Park Y. M. C. A. volleyball team, that won the championship of the United States last year and this year just lost out for the national honors by one point to the Youngstown, O., team. The Hyde Park team were second in the tourney this year. Ralph has played with the team for the past three years.

Antioch Farmers Sign University Project

Chris Paschen and A. H. Piorstorf of Antioch recently signed the University of Illinois project to eliminate infectious abortion from their dairy herds. These two herds are the first to be accepted by the University under this project. The work in this locality is being carried on under the supervision of Dr. Jensen.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Crowley returned Wednesday from Savana, Mo., where Mrs. Crowley had been under treatment at a hospital.

School's Out

TWENTY-SEVEN SENIORS WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Largest Class in History
Finish Course at Antioch
High School.

This is a busy week at the Antioch Township high school, teachers and students being busily engaged with the various events incident to the closing of the school year and the graduation of twenty-seven seniors, the largest class in history to finish the prescribed course at the local school. The various class events before the close of school next week will make the time pass all too quickly.

"The Sequoia," the school annual is just off the press, and the staff will be busy the first of the week distributing the year book.

The annual community recognition service in behalf of the teachers and pupils will be held at the Methodist church Sunday evening, June 3, at eight o'clock. Rev. Krahl will deliver the address.

Commencement June 6

Commencement exercises proper will be held at the high school auditorium on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. Following are the graduates who have finished the course and will receive diplomas: Homer Tiffany, Edwin Kapple, Harold Asp, Edna Verrier, Laura Anderson, Katherine Anzinger, Jean Abt, Joseph Bernolfo, Dorothy Brogan, Doris Brumfield, Harland Craft, Ruth Cribb, Howard Gaston, Herbert Ghan, Alyce Hahn, Joe Hucker, Roberta Lewis, Marguerite Manzer, Wilbur Madison, Charles Michell, Helen Neahous, Frank Paskausky, Hattie Risch, Russell Spleer, Marion Willis, Ray Van Patten, Ramona Winslip.

Noted Speaker Will Give Address

Dr. William Davidson, president of the Illinois Wesleyan University, will make the commencement address. Pres. Davidson comes here with an excellent reputation as a public speaker, and all who attend the commencement exercises are assured of hearing an address that no one can afford to miss.

The boys' and girls' glee clubs will be assisted by the orchestra in furnishing the music for the evening.

"Bud" Carrell Wins National Tuba Trophy

James E. Carrell, one of the tuba players of the Senn high school of Chicago, won first place in the national contest for high schools held at Joliet, Illinois, last week. High school bands from nearly every state in the union were entered in the contest. Joliet high school band won first, and Senn high second.

In the individual contests "Bud" Carrell has won a high honor, as he is now considered the champion tuba player of all the high schools in the United States.

Antioch Firemen Open Channel Lake Pavilion

The Blue Birds orchestra greeted dancers at W. O. Winch's Channel Lake pavilion Tuesday evening when the Antioch Volunteer Fire Department sponsored the opening dance of the season at that popular place of amusement. A great crowd attended and the affair was pronounced as one of the most successful in recent years.

New Studebaker, Erskine Agency Is Announced

Peters and Felter Form Partnership for Sale of Popular Cars.

"South View Motor Sales," a partnership in which W. E. Peters and Virgil (Roxie) Felter are principals, was formed last week for the sale of Studebaker and Erskine automobiles. The partners received their first car last Saturday, a Dictator sport model of the Studebaker, which they are demonstrating to prospective purchasers.

Cars sold through the agency will be serviced at the Main Garage, Antioch, the firm has announced. They hope to secure a suitable showroom in the near future.

Mr. Peters, late of the Wetzel Chevrolet Sales, has had considerable experience in selling autos, and no doubt he will be ably assisted by his partner, Mr. Felter, who has a wide acquaintance in this locality. In the past he has interested himself in subdivision projects. The new sales agency takes its name from Felter's "South View" subdivision at Lake Catherine.

Antioch Couple Are Wed at Waukegan

Mrs. Martha Spangard and Mr. Mike Jensen, both well known and respected residents of Antioch, were united in marriage at Waukegan last Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at the Lutheran church parsonage by Rev. Bartz, pastor, at three o'clock. The couple will make their home in Antioch.

LAKES BODIES MERGE FOR IMPROVEMENT OF ENTIRE RESORT REGION

C. K. Anderson Is Elected To Head Group of Association.

A great organization of all the Northern Illinois lake region and Fox river residents came into being Sunday at Cedar Crest Country club where a meeting was held for the purpose of merging the many associations that have had a common purpose in the past. The new organization that will have as members the several associations in the region, will be known as the Chain O'Lakes Association of Lake County.

Represented at the meeting were delegates from Pistakee Lake, Pistakee Bay, Nippersink Lake, Fox Lake, Long Lake, Catherine, Channel, Marie, Grass, Cedar Lake and Loon Lake, also from the Fox river region. The meeting was called to order by C. K. Anderson, president of the C. C. and M. Improvement association, and also acting president of the consolidated organization as tentatively planned at the winter meetings.

After hearing the report of the winter meetings by the secretary, W. H. Gilford, members of the C. C. and M. Improvement association, moved to join the consolidation, which is to include the Fox Lake and River Improvement association, the recently formed Chain O'Lakes commission and the affiliation of the Long Lake association and other like organizations. Many of the bodies, having local problems to work out in their own way, will retain their identity as separate organizations, but will affiliate with the consolidated organization and co-operate in the work of improving the entire region.

Anderson Will Head Group

C. K. Anderson, of Lake Catherine, was elected president; George Maypole, Fox Lake, vice president; R. C. Abt, Antioch, secretary; E. H. White, Pistakee, treasurer. Nineteen of the 24 directors were elected as follows: Lake Catherine, Alfred L. Sampson; Channel, Wm. Gertling, C. J. Joyce; Marie, E. J. Gnaedinger, W. O. Winch; Bluff, E. M. Runyard; Petite, H. T. Minersman; Grass, Ray Pregenzer, Fred T. Gardner, Fox, A. J. Amundsen, B. W. Winship; Nippersink, L. C. DePott; Pistakee Lake, E. H. White; Pistakee Bay, C. E. Carlson; Long Lake, F. H. Crossdale; Round Lake, Geo. P. Rennehan; Cedar, Frank Hamlin; Loon, R. A. Kasperek.

W. H. Blencoe, who served as president of the Fox River Conservancy district, and Ray Paddock, republican candidate for state senator, and Lee McDonough, representative nominee, were among the 75 present at Cedar Crest Sunday morning.

Surveying For Zion- Rockford State Highway

Surveys are being made all along the line of state road 173, the surveying gang working around Channel Lake during the past week. Good progress is being reported and residents of Antioch and Zion are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the surveyors in these towns where there has been differences of opinion over route location. The recommendation of state surveyors will no doubt settle the question.

Work on School Building Progresses Rapidly

Work on Antioch's new grade school building is progressing rapidly. The end of this week will see the basement and foundation work almost completed, according to J. E. Sibley & Son, general contractors, who have a large force of workmen on the job. Chas. N. Lutz of Antioch, has been awarded the electrical contract. It was announced this week.

State Will Complete Highway 59 to Antioch

Work of grading the gap on state route 59 just west of Antioch is now in progress and the cement will be laid soon, thus completing the north end of the road into Antioch. The stretch, which required a deep fill, was left for the grade to settle last summer when the cement was laid on the road.

WATER SYSTEM ISSUE CARRIES AT LAKE VILLA

$12,000 Bonding Proposition Gets Approval By Five Majority.

The $12,000 bond issue proposition for the construction of a new water system for the village of Lake Villa carried by five votes at a spirited special election last Friday. One hundred and fifteen persons voted for the proposition and 110 against it. The proposition of installing water mains also carried by 122 to 111.

The proposition was beaten by five votes at the special election on May 3. It will be recalled, the vote at that time being 87 for the bond issue and 82 against it. The larger vote Friday was due to added interest in the project and it is believed a record was set for sentiment on a bond issue in the county.

Advertisement for bids will be made within a short time, the village board has announced.

Arkansas Dairymen Visit Paschendale

"Arkansas Travelers" on Tour, See Real Dairy Farm Near Antioch.

Forty Arkansas dairymen and students from the University of Arkansas Saturday visited the farm of Chris Paschen two miles north of Antioch to see the herd of pure bred Jersey cattle assembled at Paschendale.

The Arkansans were greatly interested in Mr. Paschen's herd, his methods of feeding, and the new barn and equipment he has installed. Mr. R. M. Anstroth, western representative of the Jersey cattle club, was in charge of the party. Mr. Block, secretary of the Wisconsin Jersey association, met the Arkansas travelers at Antioch from whence they proceeded to the Mitchell farm at Lake Geneva and then north to Waukesha and Northern Wisconsin.

Mr. Paschen now has a herd of forty-four of best Jersey breeding obtainable.

VETERANS HONORED IN MEMORIAL DAY SERVICE YESTERDAY

But Three Civil War Men Remain—Firing Squad Salutes.

Following the colors they so gallantly defended in '61, three civil war veterans yesterday were accorded a place of honor in the line of march from the school to the cemetery, the procession being a part of the impressive Memorial day program in Antioch. The veterans were Joseph Haycock, A. J. Felter and Homer Stevens, this community's three remaining veterans of the last thinning ranks of those who wore the blue.

In the line of march formed at the Antioch grade school building at 2:30 were: the colors, drum and bugle corps, commander of the Legion and the Legion firing squad, as escort to the civil war men who were next in line; then came the Daughters of the G. A. R., the Legion Auxiliary, school children bearing wreaths of flowers to decorate the graves of veterans of all wars, and the local Boy Scouts.

Service at Cemetery.

Proceeding to Hillside cemetery, the procession formed a hollow square and Commander Archie Mapleshorpe, of the Legion, opened the service. Rex Dixon gave the invocation. Very fine and impressive talks were made by Rev. Krahl, of the M. E. church, and Rev. Fr. Lynch, of St. Peter's. Next on the program was the decoration of soldiers' graves by the school children, and the placing of a wreath on the unknown soldier's grave by Sergeant-at-Arms Meede. The recently organized firing squad, under command of Capt. Walance, then fired three volleys as a final salute to their departed comrades, and the bugle corps sounded taps. The service was pronounced one of the most impressive ever held here.

Members of the firing squad are: S. M. Walance, captain; Ray Webb, Ray Winfield, John Horan, Rex Bonser, Wm. White, A. Pesat, Walter Hills, Chas. Atwood. Drummers in the procession yesterday were: O. S. Kinas and a lad from the Allendale Boys' School. Buglers, Paul Kessler, Earl Horton, and a member of the Allendale boys' band.

The Legion Auxiliary colors were used in the procession yesterday for the first time.

Wesley Wertz, U. of I. Graduate, Employed as Coach at Pawnee, Ill.

Urbana, Ill., May 31.—Wesley C. Wertz of Antioch, Illinois, who will be graduated in June from the University of Illinois four-year course in athletic coaching and physical education, has been appointed coach of football, basketball and track at the high school in Pawnee, Illinois.

Wertz attended the township high school in Antioch, Illinois where he played basketball and football for two years and was on the baseball and track teams for two years.

At the University of Illinois Wertz was on the Freshman varsity basketball squad. More than 50 young men will be graduated in June from the Illinois four-year course in athletic coaching. More and more graduates of this course are in demand by colleges and high schools and more than 175 graduates are now employed as coaches and directors of physical education throughout the United States.

The course is a curriculum of the college of education and graduates are awarded a degree of Bachelor of Science. Students receive not only a specialized training in athletics and physical education but a well-rounded general university education. Theory and practices are combined in the athletic courses which are taught by 22 instructors including the head coaches, Robert C. Zupke, football; Harry L. Gill, track; Carl Lundgren, baseball and Craig Ruby, basketball. There are also required academic courses in anatomy, physiology, education and journalism, especially for students in athletic coaching as well as a number of academic electives for students in particular subjects in which they have special interest and ability.

Mrs. A. H. Stevens and son, Chase, returned to their home in Virginia, Minn., Wednesday after a week's visit here with relatives and friends.

The Antioch Cafe served dinner to fifty men from Arkansas Monday noon.

NEW WAYS TO COOK FISH
Shrimp, Chinese Style

Shred three-quarters cup celery, one-half green pepper, add one-quarter cup drained pineapple. Brown in three tablespoons butter. Add one cup shrimp, cook until done.

Baked Mackerel with Sauce

Roll one pound mackerel fillets in cornmeal and bake in a hot oven, 300 degrees, adding a little water to prevent sticking. Make a sauce by melting two tablespoons butter and adding the juice of one lemon, two tablespoons ketchup, one tablespoon minced parsley, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, and also a little salt and paprika.

Baked Oysters with Mushrooms

Cook two small chopped onions, two tablespoons minced parsley and one pound mushrooms, cut into small pieces, in four tablespoons butter until soft (about five minutes) seasoning with salt and paprika. Meanwhile dip one dozen oysters in one-half cup milk with one tablespoon salt, and then in one and one-half cups bread crumbs and lay on oiled pan. Sprinkle with two tablespoons olive oil and bake in a very hot oven, 500 degrees, for seven or eight minutes. Serve on the mushrooms.

Spence's Fillet of Sole

Dip one pound of fish fillets in one-half cup milk, which has been seasoned with one-half tablespoon salt, and then into one cup bread crumbs. Place on a greased baking sheet and sprinkle with two tablespoons olive oil. Bake in a very hot oven, 500 degrees, for ten minutes. Serve with lemon butter cups, made by creaming four tablespoons butter, adding four teaspoons lemon juice slowly, and when well mixed stirring in two teaspoons minced parsley. Chill and serve in lemon cups. These cups can be made by removing the pulp from small halves of lemons and cutting the ends to make them stand.

Here's some variety in the Bread Line

Rolls Oats Bread

- 1 cup oats
- 1-3 cup molasses
- 1 tablespoon melted lard
- 1 teaspoon salt

Over these ingredients pour 1 pint boiling water, and when cool stir in 1/2 yeast cake and 1 quart of flour. In the morning dip dough in bread pan with spoon. Let raise and bake. Don't knead. This receipt is sufficient for one loaf.

Grape Nut Bread

- 1 egg
 - 1 cup of grape nuts
 - 2-3 cup of sugar
 - 1 cup of milk
 - 2 teaspoons lard or butter
 - 2 1/2 cups of flour
 - 2 teaspoons of baking powder
- Salt to taste. Stir sugar into egg, add grape nut and milk, and then add flour. Let raise 1/2 hour and bake 1/2 of an hour.

Date Bread

- 2 cups graham flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 cup white flour
- 1/2 teaspoon of cream of tartar
- 1 teaspoon soda, pinch of salt mixed together
- 2 cups of buttermilk or sour milk
- 1 beaten egg
- 1/2 package of dates (wash, stone and cut)

Mix all, pour in tin, let raise by the stove for fifteen minutes, and then bake for 3/4 of an hour. This makes one loaf.

For The Spring Camping Trip

A duffle bag or carry-all for the running board of the car in inconspicuous brown, which has no ends to flap in the wind and fastens with a zipper closing, is another welcome addition to our list of tested devices. The number of blankets and pieces of bulky camp clothing which may be added is amazing. Then there is a companion bag which could be slung from the tent pole to hold the "city clothes." It is simply long to allow coats or dresses to hang straight and has room for nine coat hangers. A slide closing seals it tight and prevents dust or moths.

SUNDAY NIGHT SUPPERS are particularly popular in the summer when a few friends find it so easy to drop in for an evening. Try serving them pineapple pancakes hot off the electric griddle, and you'll make a hit. Mix and sift two cups of flour, one-half teaspoon salt, and four teaspoons baking powder. Add one beaten egg mixed with one and one-fourth cups milk, one cup crushed Hawaiian pineapple and one tablespoon melted fat. Bake on a hot griddle. Serve with a sauce made by boiling one cup each of pineapple syrup, water and sugar for fifteen minutes.

LIKABLE, WEARABLE, YOUTHFUL IS THE ENSEMBLE OF GAY PRINT

SLEEVELESS the blouse, short the evening jacket, two-piece tiered the skirt. The aforesaid styling expressed in terms of gay print crepe with plain, as here pictured, bespeaks none other than a most likable, wearable, youthful and chic summer-time costume.

In adopting gay prints as media for coat and jacket ensembles, the mode is adding a unique and fascinating chapter to the story of spring and summer fashions. Novelty never fails to arouse enthusiasm in the realm of dress, and that is one of the reasons why coats and jackets of vivacious prints with matching skirts are making a tremendous "hit" this season.

For these fetching daytime ensembles, simple washable weaves, or costly silks, it matters not—the print's the thing! If one material may be said to be more in favor than another for these cunning colorful ensembles, crepe de chine printed in quaint patterns is "it." As to the styling of these youthful animated prints, it is of the simplest, given to softly feminine lines, as is that of the attractive model in this picture.

It would be difficult to conceive of a more suited-to-all-hours of the day, time mode, than this one. The frock being sleeveless, it proclaims chic no less than it assures wearableness. "With-out sleeves," a most important style message this, especially in regard to sports frocks for summer. With a coat to slip on at will, or off, when occasion calls there is untold comfort to be derived from a frock of this sort, not to mention outstanding smartness. Paris has cabled of the more feminine silhouette, flounced skirts, for instance, which accounts for the two-tiered ruffles which grace this particular model.

Some women are buying inexpensive artificial silks in gay prints or figured cotton crepes, making them up in similar fashion to the mode shown here. Hand-blocked linens and piques are also handsomely styled with matching coats or jackets.

Wonderfully effective for the print suit is patterned shantung and if it be polka-dotted, then indeed has it reached the zenith of that which is fashionable. Shantung yields to simple treatments and therefore is standing for washable ensembles.

Adhesive Tape for Picture Frames

Aside from the hairpin, it is doubtful if any other household article is as useful and versatile as adhesive tape. When all its medical and surgical uses are mentioned there are still other uses, such as picture framing, to be filled by adhesive tape. After the tape has been placed on the glass and picture, it can be tinted a neutral tint to harmonize with the room. By careful fitting of the corner a neat piece of work is secured. As insulation for electrical wires, adhesive tape is specially handy. A very fine tailored skirt can be effectively hemmed without a seam by applying adhesive tape underneath, and pressing with a hot iron. Golf clubs, tennis rackets, and even the tops of children's rubbers can be mended with it. A slipping heel of a summer pump is easily remedied by a small strip of adhesive.

An obstinate corner of a rug that constantly turns up may be cured by pasting a small strip, on the underside at a firm tension.

QUITS DANCE TO KILL MAN WITH WIFE AT HOME

Slayer Then Returns and Tells Merry-makers What He Has Done.

Watertown, N. Y.—Taking time off from calling country square dances Howard Bishop, forty-three-year-old Hammond farmer, slipped home unexpectedly, found his wife in the arms of a neighbor, he says, and killed him with a double-barreled shotgun. The victim was Merritt Manning, fifty, married and the father of two children. Five of Bishop's eight children slept upstairs as the killing was done below.

Bishop suddenly left the home of Earl Hunter on the Hammond-Rose road at 11:30 at night. He asked a friend to do the "cutting" until he returned.

"I have just killed Merritt Manning," he announced to the assembled dancers as he resumed his position near the killers.

Take It for a Joke.

Every one laughed. It seemed a good joke. Certainly no one appeared to take Bishop seriously. Even Manning's wife and two children, enjoying themselves hugely in the square dances, were unimpressed.

Then after the dance had continued a few minutes Bishop's serious manner worried friends.

"If you don't believe me," Bishop calmly said, "come back with me. I found him at my home with my wife and killed him."

upright and together will prevent them spilling during traveling.

On Summer Costumes Skirt details receive unusual attention.

To focus attention upon the skirt is to emphasize the smartness of plaited flounces arranged in tiered effect that, at hipline, are given a pointed outline by means of bodice sections arranged geometrically. A skirt, featuring a deep hem and grouped fluffs suggesting respectively a peplum at hips and a tunic effect lower down on the skirt, is of special importance. Godet and plaited skirts given new personality to sports clothes. The latest concession to the softened sports mode is the introduction of the flared skirt with godets that supply a graceful rippling fullness.

Bishop hurried ahead. When the dancers arrived they found Bishop standing grimly, shotgun in hand, at the corner of a fence in front of the house.

"He's in there," Bishop said.

Inside they found Manning on the kitchen floor, a gaping hole showing where the shot had found their mark. Mrs. Bishop hysterically waited in a chair nearby.

Says He's Glad of It.

Bishop was arrested by state troopers when he walked down the highway toward the village to give himself up. As troopers drove by he halted them, smiled, and said:

"I'm the man you want. I came to give myself up."

Mrs. Manning told authorities that Mrs. Bishop had "vamped" her husband seven years. "I went there many times and warned her to keep away from my man," she said, "but always she laughed at me. Mrs. Bishop told me just a little while ago, 'I've got your husband just where I want him and I am going to keep him.'"

Bishop told the district attorney he had killed Manning, and added, "I'm d—n glad of it."

No Wonder It's Costly

To obtain the single grain of radium which the women of America gave to Madame Curie when she visited this country in 1921 required the working of 900 tons of ore and the labor of 500 men for six months. During the process of extraction there were consumed 10,000 tons of distilled water, 1,000 tons of coal and 500 tons of chemicals.—Gos. Eagle.

WILMOT HIGH SCHOOL BOY IS VICTIM OF SPINAL MENINGITIS

Fourteen Graduates to Finish Course at
High School.

Earl Blood, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blood died at the family home last Wednesday morning of spinal meningitis. He had been ill for the past month with the flu which eventually turned into the dreaded disease that claimed his life. A private funeral was held at the home on Thursday afternoon with burial in the Wilmot cemetery. The funeral cortege waited at the grave for his fellow students from the Wilmot High School to march in formation from the school to the cemetery. Rev. Monkman of the Salem and Wilmot M. E. churches gave an impressive sermon at the grave and Mrs. Monkman sang.

Earl Blood was born Dec. 21, 1911, at Beloit. He spent the greater part of his life in Wilmot, or its vicinity, and was a popular student at the Union Free High School, where he was a member of the Junior class. Earl was known as an exceptional student at school and was a very industrious boy at home.

Besides his parents he is survived by four sisters and two brothers.

Union Free High School commencement week program commencement exercises will be held Thursday evening, June 7th, with the following program: Processional; Salutatory, Wylanta Haggerty; Mixed Chorus, Wylanta Haggerty, Alice McDougall, Ruth Stoxen, Norton Bassett. Commencement address, W. J. Perry; Violin solo, Prof. J. E. Mulder; Valedictory, Bernice Harm; Presentation of Diplomas, Recessional.

The Wilmot high school baseball team defeated the Richmond high school team Friday by a score of 5-0. It was the second defeat handed to the Richmond team by Wilmot.

George Richter, Wilmot pitcher, allowed only three hits and struck out nine opponents. Batting honors for Wilmot went to Memler who knocked out a triple, and Shreck who had a two base hit. The local team also had two double plays to its credit. One was made by Memler and Rasch, the other, by Schmalfeldt, Bufton and Rasch.

Wilmot completes this year's schedule next Friday, June 1st, when they play a return game at Antioch. Antioch won the first game of the series by a score of 4-1.

The Wilmot baseball team continued its winning streak Sunday when

Texas Farmer Hunting Rabbits, Bags Lioness

Dallas, Texas.—Carl Payton, a farmer of near Rowlett, Texas, was rabbit hunting and bagged a 7-foot lioness. The beast was shipped by express by the Dallas municipal zoo to Independence, Mo. It escaped from its cage and jumped from the car between Dallas and Greenville.

Joe Borkhart, a farmer, saw a big animal under a culvert shortly after daybreak when he went to repair a fence. He called Payton who was hunting nearby. The lioness jumped from cover and Payton emptied his pump shotgun, killing her. They hurried to Rowlett and told of the "bag." Until then they had not known of the escape of the lioness from an express car.

Saves a Boy's Life— and Gets a Beating

Des Moines, Iowa.—James Holtz, who saved a boy's life despite the objections of a woman spectator who thought he was giving the boy a beating, received belated thanks recently.

A piece of popcorn lodged in the windpipe of eleven-year-old Max Hodges several days ago while he was riding on a street car. Holtz, who was a passenger, tossed the boy to the floor and applied vigorous slaps and artificial respiratory measures, at the same time fighting off the hair-pulling and drubbing administered to him by an infuriated woman who did not understand what was going on.

After the ambulance arrived, Holtz disappeared. A city-wide search was carried on by the parents to find him and express thanks for saving the child's life.

Riveting Necessary

The railroads of the United States, which are famous the world over for their speed and safety, use riveted equipment. Only riveted steel can stand the strain of hurtling tens of thousands of miles at breakneck speed. Bridges that bear hundreds of thousands of tons of weight and withstand extremes of hot and cold weather, of snow and storm, are built of riveted steel.

First Ship

The first ship of which there is any record is an Egyptian boat of about 3000 B. C. and there are certain features of this ship which have persisted even to the present day.

Years of Service in Model T Fords

Expenditure of few dollars may enable you to get thousands of miles from your old car

THE Model T Ford is still a great car. It led the motor industry for twenty years and it is used today by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service in city, town and country, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer at very small up-keep expense.

The cost of Model T parts and of necessary labor is unusually low because of established Ford policies.

New fenders, for instance, cost from $3.50 to $5 each, with a labor charge of $1 to $2.50. Tuning up the motor and replacing commutator case, brush and vibrator points costs only $1, with a small charge for material. Brake shoes can be installed and emergency brakes equalized for a labor charge of only $1.25. A labor charge of $4 to $5 will cover the overhauling of the front axle, rebushing springs and spring perches, and straightening, aligning and adjusting wheels.

The labor charge for overhauling the average rear axle runs from $5.75 to $7. Grinding valves and cleaning carbon can be done for $3 to $4.

A set of four new pistons costs only $7. For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. Parts are extra.

All of these prices are approximate, of course, because the cost of materials needed will depend on the condition of each car. They show, however, the low cost of putting the Model T Ford in shape for thousands of miles of additional service.

See the nearest Ford dealer, therefore, and have him estimate on the cost of re-conditioning your Model T Ford. He will tell you, in advance, exactly how much the complete job will cost.

RIVER MEN REMEMBER TWAIN AS PILOT CUB

Head Was Full of Jokes, Says Old Captain.

New Orleans.—There seems to be a little doubt in the minds of older experts on the river whether Sam Clemens would ever have become the Mississippi's greatest pilot if he had stayed in the business instead of wandering off into literature.

Clemens is still "Horace Bixby's cub" in river lore, as he was in the early chapters of his own "Life on the Mississippi," and for the benefit of such as may not identify "Bixby's cub" the pilots go on to say that he left the river after he got his papers and later in life became a writer and changed his name to Mark Twain. Bixby is still pronounced Bixby, as it was by Brown, the luckless pilot of the Pennsylvania, whose powers of memory were so acute and various.

"I was with Clemens on the river," said Capt. J. P. McElroy, one of the few surviving cuts who populate Twain's saga of the steamboats. "Sam was a fine lad, but I guess his head was full of jokes. There were other things than lousiness going on in his things. I expect, to put in his books. In fact, he was writing burlesque for the Pleanne when we were boys.

Down-River Pilot.

"Bixby told me a yarn about him that Sam wrote up later on. You know, in New Orleans the water is so swift in the channel that when you move upstream you keep as near as possible to the docks on the city side to keep out of the current. When you go downstream, you stay on the Al-giers side to get the advantage of the river's movement.

"Sam had the wheel as the Paul Jones started upriver, and Bixby told him to keep her close to the docks. But Sam had her yawing out into the stream. He was afraid he'd bump the boats in the wharves. Finally Bixby took the wheel and purposely steered her so as just to shove the boats by a foot. That frightened Sam, who was only a kid. But his sense of humor was pretty well gone. 'Mr. Bixby,' he finally said, 'I want to be a down-river pilot.'

Another of the older authorities, Capt. Louis Mizand, a down-river pilot in a Norfolk and known chiefly for a more septentrional locality, Captain McElroy's story five years, is also fully skeptical of Twain's future on the river, had he stayed.

"I think he loved the river, but I don't know whether he really loved piloting. If he had, he would have gone back to it after the war. A real pilot doesn't want to do anything else, and he doesn't have much of anything else on his mind if he's a good one. Twain was a great joker, but that took up some of his time."

A generation and more ago Captain McElroy was one of the best-known pilots on the Mississippi, and owner of three great craft in the last quarter of the steamboat age: the Southern Belle, the Omaha Belle, and the St. John No. 2. Also, he is one of the few pilots who ever took a boat out of New Orleans to Hismarck, N. D.

Today he is doing permanent watch on the Fifth, a concrete ship moored to the levee above the city, a decaying monument to one of our ingenious war-time ideas. The captain thinks something might be done with concrete vessels, but, being a riverman, wouldn't care to participate. "You know," he says, "a river boat moves along by vibration—like a snake. These craft are like logs. They lie in the sea and let it roll over them."

The faith, of course, is pointed up stream at her mooring, and this is as it should be. The old captain can keep an eye on his river as it moves audaciously down from his old trull, which doubtless is the mark of the born pilot—that he thinks of it as his river.

TEXAS LUNATICS TO TAKE UP GOLF

State Lays Out Course on Grounds of Asylum.

Austin, Texas.—Lively times are in prospect on the new golf course which the state board of control is laying out on the grounds of the state insane asylum at Austin. Inmates of the institution make it their principal topic of discussion, and they are already preparing to challenge some of the best golf players of the state for match games. It is the theory of R. B. Walthall, chairman of the board of control, that playing golf will result in much physical and mental benefit to insane patients. The board is preparing to establish golf courses at all of the other nine insane asylums, sanitariums, training schools and hospitals of the state.

"Some of the institutions have more ground than others, but we shall see to it that all get golf courses," Mr. Walthall said. "It will be recommended to superintendents that they set certain hours of the day for certain groups in order that all may get a few rounds every day. If this can be arranged, the 2,000 inmates at the San Antonio asylum, 2,000 at the Terrell asylum and 2,000 at the Austin asylum will get in their 'dilly dilly.' The Wichita Falls insane hospital has but 1,028 inmates.

"Many of these inmates already are doing outdoor work, such as gardening, but some kind of sport also is needed. Most of these institutions raise their own garden truck and have dairies that produce sufficient milk and butter. This largely reduces the state expenses and nearly all of the work is accomplished by patients. We used patients recently to put up a building at San Antonio and they thoroughly enjoyed the labor. It did them much good."

OLDEST MEDAL MAN REGAINS EYESIGHT

Happiness Comes to Hero, Now Resident of China.

Shanghai.—Happiness has come in to the life of America's oldest possessor of the Congressional Medal of Honor—Robert Kline, one-time resident of New York, but for the last half century a resident of China and other parts of the world.

Two years ago Kline was stricken blind. He lived in darkness in the little home he maintained on Klung-wan road.

But he had his memories and he was extravagantly proud of his troubles—the Congressional medal won when, as a member of the crew of the old U. S. S. Raleigh, he risked his own life by entering a gas-filled hold and rescued several comrades from what seemed certain death, and the Dewey medal won for gallantry at Manila bay.

Last July 4 he was guided by a friend to the Bund, where the American marines were parading. On his faded blue coat gleamed the medals.

Presently an admiral, commander in chief of the American Asiatic fleet, arrived with his aids and was about to mount the stand when he espied Kline. Up went the admiral's right arm in quick salute.

Onlookers told Kline and tears trickled from his sightless eyes. He would have given anything, he said, to have seen the tribute.

Recently Dr. V. R. Murray, eye specialist attached to the United States health department, became interested in Kline's affliction and decided to operate.

For three weeks Kline lay in a curtained room, hoping and praying. The bandages were removed and, thanks to the prayers or to efficacious surgery or both, Kline found he could see. Indistinctly at first, but his eyes gradually are growing stronger.

"That's why the old veteran is happy now."

"When these big boys salute me again you just bet I'll see 'em," he said.

Preserving Mushrooms

Mushrooms may be preserved entire by drying them in the sun or in an oven. All moisture must be removed before the material is packed in a perfectly tight container. Mushrooms so preserved, after a preliminary soaking in tepid water or milk, may be cooked as if fresh. Dried mushrooms, and even tough dried stems, may be ground and used as a powder for seasoning gravies and other dishes.

June—College Harvest time, with the usual crop of graduates.

The sad part of it is, now they have to go to work.

It has been a long, long trail from the thatched roof of the savage, to the Mule Hide Roof of modern civilization. What progress we have made. The Mule Hide Roof undoubtedly is the most beautiful and most durable roof made. Come in and let's talk it over.

"Now, I see why you see so well in the dark."

"Howum?"

"Lookit the lantern jaw you carry."

Have you an item you want published in our paper? If you have, just tell us about it and we'll see that it is published.

S. M. Walance says, "Straw hat season is about here." Have you got yours?

She: "So you kissed the painted creature?" He: "Yes, I saluted the colors."

Over heard in the drug store: "What is good to clean ivory?"

"Try a shampoo."

"Tom had a terrible accident."

"What happened?"

"He got hit on the head with a sledge hammer and now he has fallen arches."

No fly has ever yet learned the combination to our screen doors and windows.

"Did my father leave an order with you for a load of lumber?" asked a strange, but attractive, young lady of us the other day. "I don't know Miss," we replied. "There was a gentleman in who said to deliver a load to a driver who would call and said it was for Mr. Zell." "Yes, thank you said she: 'I'm Gladys Zell.'" "Eh—what?" we gulped. "I'm Gladys Zell," she repeated. "Oh, yes, yes, of course," we replied, "so are we."

Fireproof Linoleum

Introduction of a kind of linoleum that is almost incombustible, cheap, easy to handle and durable has been announced in England. When it is heated to a high temperature, a chemical in it gives off a gas which stays close to the floor, cuts off the air supply and so smothers the blaze.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Discharging Torpedo

When a torpedo is fired from a submarine the outer door of the torpedo tube opens and water pours in up to the inside door of the tube. In order to reload the tube the outer door is closed, the inner door is opened, and the water in the tube rushes into the bilges of the submarine and is pumped out.

FIND WAR VETERAN FIVE YEARS "DEAD"

Officials in San Francisco Identify Shock Victim.

San Francisco.—Unable to account for many blank years and long thought dead by relatives, Nathaniel William Emery, thirty-eight, Bloomington, Ind., shell-shock victim of the World war and former lieutenant in the United States Marine corps, has been found, ill and destitute, here.

Robert C. Stillwell, secretary of the United Veterans' service commission, No. 312 Jessie street, has received information that clears up the mystery and steps have been taken to place Emery in a government hospital.

Emery wandered into the commission's office looking for a job. He said he wanted work of any kind as he was homeless, penniless and had been sleeping in Golden Gate park. He knew he had been in the Marine corps; that he enlisted in 1915 and was discharged in 1919; he recalled something about service on the battleship Texas, and with the One Hundred and Thirtieth company, Eleventh U. S. M. C. Beyond that he knew nothing about himself.

Emery was given temporary relief and Stillwell wrote to James E. Watson, United States senator from Indiana. The reply unraveled the tangled skein.

Emery, it was divulged, had escaped from a Madison (Ind.) hospital in 1923, to which he had been sent from Bloomington in 1921. Since his escape nothing had been heard from him. His wife, struggling to support their nine-year-old son and herself, had given him up for dead, divorced him and remarried.

Emery had had a hazy recollection of having a brother in the army and apparently had wandered over the country looking for him. The brother in Maj. A. R. Emery, formerly stationed at the Presidio, now at Fort Hunt, Alexandria, Va. He has been apprised of Emery's condition.

When Emery fled the Madison hospital the government stopped paying him compensation. In five years this has accumulated to several thousand dollars, and an effort is being made to have this restored.

At the request of Emery's Bloomington friends, Stillwell now seeks to have him removed either to the Madison (Ind.) hospital or to Palo Alto from Napa, where he is receiving temporary treatment.

MILLBURN GRADUATES RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Friends Bid Farewell to Miss Minto at Party Saturday Afternoon.

An announcement which will long be remembered, was a happy reunion of Miss Una Jean Minto's friends and relatives at her home last Saturday afternoon, when they gathered to give her a shower of useful articles before she leaves on June 7, for her long trip to Africa. An original poem "Why Are We," was read by H. D. Hughes of Gurnee and appreciated by all present. Refreshments were served to about 90 people, and all expressed the thought that it had been a wonderful afternoon, and all were glad such a reunion had been planned. Miss Minto will speak at the church on Sunday, June 3, and all her friends will take advantage of this opportunity to hear her again.

The graduating exercises of the eighth grade in Warren and Newport townships were held at Gurnee on Monday evening with forty-eight boys and girls receiving their diplomas. Those from Millburn school were Geraldine Bonner, Marlon Edwards, Mary Luzar, Margaret Lucas, Pearl Lucas and Arthur Johannsen.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Sloum spent Thursday with friends at Ringwood, Illinois.

Miss Marion Neahous of Chicago spent the week end at home.

Master Carl Bruckner fell from a tree breaking his arm last Friday.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schwicht at the Victory Memorial hospital on Monday, May 21.

Mr. and Mrs. George White and sons, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Denman and children, and D. M. White, were entertained at the Earl A. White home in Evanston Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Beck, having disposed of their stock at public auction last Saturday have closed their home, and will spend some time in Round Lake, with Mrs. Beck's relatives.

There will be no meeting of the Ladies Aid this week, as the June committee are planning something for later in the month.

Miss Ardis Scoville of Kenosha spent the week end with Ruth and Marion Edwards.

Mrs. Howard Garby and daughter and Mrs. Hyre of Chicago called at R. J. Bonner's Wednesday.

Miss Una Minto is spending this week with her nieces, Catherine and Ruth Minto at Beloit.

Asp Venom Is Found Curative of Rabies

Paris.—The asp, which provided Cleopatra with a solution of her love problems, is also it appears, death to rabies.

The discovery was made by a well-known French woman physician, Dr. Marie Phisalix. In a paper read to the Academy of Sciences, she told of having established that the venom of the asp when mixed with virus of rabies makes the latter harmless and noninfectious.

Green Troops

They say they were yellow, those boys going in
For their first taste of war with its haves and dis;
They scarce knew the rifle they held in their grasp,
Or the belts that cut into their hips like a rasp!
They never had known of the fifth and the mud
Or the thick crawling feel of the hot dripping blood
When they came from the trenches,
eyes set in a stare,
And went into the wheat—to God only known where.

They never had heard a man groan
when he's hit,
Or grasp when he choked in his own
bloody spit
As a bullet drilled into his chest with a smack
And tore a big hole coming out of his back;
Nor struggled by gas till they rolled on the ground,
Their tongues hanging out like a run-
to-death hound;
So they broke, and their faces went white as the tan
As they faltered a moment, then
"dogged it" and ran.

But only a moment—then anger's red jet Blazed in the eyes that were staring and set;
They turned once again with a curse
and a yell
And started back into that cauldron of hell.
They dropped like the wheel as the
swoosh cuts it low,
But they gained inch by inch as they came blow for blow,
And they reached their objective at dusk of the night—
They may have been yellow, but, lad,
they could fight!

Legion's Salute to Buddies in France

Leaving the shouting and tumult of their convention behind, thousands of American Legionnaires reverently set out on the real pilgrimage of their visit to France last year. They left for the battlefields of Helms, Lille and Verdun to visit the graves of their comrades in arms who fell in the great upheaval.

At the Tabula du Trocadero they had heard General Pershing and Marshal Foch vouch their heroic war deeds and after they solemnly placed a wreath at the tomb of Lafayette later they were the guests of President Doumergue and still later enjoyed Marshal Foch's hospitality at a garden party. All these events paved the way for the real purpose of their visit.

SLAYER OF GIRL ENDS HIS LIFE WHEN CAPTURED

Shoots Young Woman Because She Upbraided Him for Opening Her Mail.

Walkkill, N. Y.—After dodging his pursuers all night, watching them dynamite a small creek for traces of him and once lying in ambush so near he could have reached out and touched them, Harry T. McHugh, postmaster of Walkkill, N. Y., sought for the killing of nineteen-year-old Marie Terwilliger, his brother's sweetheart, shot himself when surrounded in a lumberyard by state troopers. He died a few hours later.

Before turning his gun on himself, McHugh tried to shoot Sergeant Lockhart of Highland, N. Y., and it was only the lucky circumstance that the hammer of the revolver clicked against an empty chamber that saved the policeman from a bullet.

Begs Food.
McHugh's craving for food and the necessity of unburdening himself to some one proved his undoing. About eight o'clock at night he knocked at the door of the home of Mrs. Samuel Lawson and asked for food and clothing. She later told state troopers of his visit. He was haggard and shivering.

Shot Marie Terwilliger.

ering, she said, and she was afraid either to admit him or turn him away.

She finally decided it would be safer to humor him, so she gave him coffee, a lumber jacket and an old black hat. While drinking the coffee McHugh began telling her of the murder and his escape from his pursuers.

He said he killed Miss Terwilliger because she upbraided him about opening her mail and called him names. He could not remember shooting her, he said, he was in such a rage. He would have given himself up, he said, but he was afraid the troopers would shoot him on sight.

Opposed Engagement.
As soon as McHugh left Mrs. Lawson called the troopers and they immediately threw a cordon about the neighborhood.

He told Mrs. Lawson he was not in love with Miss Terwilliger, that he thought his brother Jesse too good for the girl and that he opposed the engagement. He also said his brother had spent money on her that he had lent to Jesse for schooling. Jesse denies this.

Sergeant Lockhart finally found him crouching in a dark pocket between two piles of lumber in a yard opposite the post office and heard the click of a revolver. When it failed to go off Lockhart ordered McHugh to come out, but in another second or two he heard a report and realized that McHugh had shot himself.

Burglars Rob Berlin Asylum for Homeless

Berlin.—Burglars broke into a place recently that would hardly seem to tempt jockmen looking for booty—the city asylum for homeless.

A number of men who have employment but no homes are given lodging at the asylum each night.

The room where the clothing of these guests is kept was the objective of the nocturnal marauders, who rifled pockets, stealing not only money and papers but also a number of suits still in a condition to bring a few marks from second-hand dealers.

The victims, most of whom had just been paid, were robbed of their last possession and some, even, were unable to go to work the next day as they had nothing to wear but under-clothing.

Burglars Walk Off With Safe in Busy Street

New York.—"A couple of piano movers gone wrong must have done that job." That was the only explanation offered by detectives after a fruitless search for the safe containing $600 stolen recently from the office of the Hotel Astor bus terminal, in the busy alley back of the hotel.

Otherwise they shed no light on how the heavy safe, 2 feet wide and 8 feet high, was carted off without detection from a thoroughfare where bus drivers, detectives, and policemen frequently pass at all hours. The bus company manager found the doors forced and the safe gone when he opened the place in the morning.

Local Boys Win In Chicago Contest

Wm. Nielsen, Local High School Lad Wins First Place.

In a combination beef cattle judging and essay contest sponsored by the American Shorthorn Breeder's Association, three boys of the Agricultural Department of The Antioch Township High School won honors. The team consisting of Harlan Craft, Lloyd Atwell, Roy McNeil, Wm. Nielsen and Robert Hughes, placed 4th in the contest. Nine schools were represented.

Outside the winning teams Wm. Nielsen of Antioch was first, Harlan Craft, placed 4th, and Roy McNeil fifth. Checks for $6.00; $3.00; and $2.00 respectively were presented the boys by the American Shorthorn Breeder's association.

Wm. Nielsen's Essay reads as follows:

JOURNEY TO CONGRESS

At five o'clock the alarm went off. I got up, ate my breakfast and then went over to my instructor's house. I rode with him in his old tin can down to the railroad station. We met the other fellows there and took the train at 6:25 for Chicago. That day was the first time I ever rode on a train. I felt rather sea sick riding on it. At 8:30 we arrived at Chicago and took the elevated train to the Union Stock Yards where the Shorthorn Congress was held.

When we walked about looking at the animals I noticed that there were three colors which were characteristic of Shorthorn cattle—red, white and roan.

In looking into the sale catalogue I noticed that some of the individuals were very large for their age. This shows that the Shorthorn cattle must be early maturing. I imagine they would be ideal for baby beef production.

I realized, in looking over the entire group, that it must have taken a great deal of labor and much cost to develop these cattle to their present condition. I thought of the men in England, and America, who have spent their lives developing this breed, and within me, somewhere, there sprang up a feeling that I also would like to do something.

Mr. Burns told us that after the ideal was established, line breeding was practiced to keep the animals from changing type. Line breeding is the breeding of animals not too closely related but of similar type and good qualities.

"In judging, the first thing you look for is beef conformation or type," said Mr. Burns.

"The cattle should be deep and have a good spread. They should resemble a brick standing on edge with a leg under each corner. The neck should be short and neatly fitted into the shoulder. The head short and wide between the eyes. If a female the head should have a fine feminine appearance. The bones should be heavy but clean and free from all coarseness," stated Mr. Burns.

This breed was formerly called Durham. They originated in North-western England in the counties of York and Durham. Red and white cattle from all parts of England and some of good milking qualities from Holland were brought together. The Shorthorns were the result. Thomas Bates bred the milking type cattle. Thomas Booth, another great breeder of cattle produced a type especially adapted for beef production. Later in 1837, Amos Cruickshank developed what is known as the Scotch Shorthorn, which is the beef type of today.

In 1783 a few Shorthorns were imported into Virginia. Since this early importation, these cattle became very popular in the New England States and in the corn belt of America. Shorthorn cattle are the most popular and their distribution is world wide. An Australian Shorthorn cow now holds the world's butter fat record. When countries become more thickly populated and intensive agriculture is necessary, farmers will turn to a type of cattle that will produce both beef and milk. This is the case in England, where ninety per cent of all the milk is supplied by the Shorthorn breed. They will do better under ordinary farm conditions and are more adapted to feeding in the corn belt than any other breed. On account of their dams being able to produce large quantities of rich milk, the calves grow fast and attain early maturity. The American people are now demanding the tender cuts from younger animals.

The outcome of the Shorthorn Congress Sale shows that the demand for breeding stock is much stronger. The general average this year was $296.40, while last year's average was $156.60. It was a Canadian breeder who had the honor of showing the grand champion bull of the show. This bull opened the first day's auction and was sold for $1,800.00 to The Iowa State College. I believe that the Congress is a good place to buy breeding cattle because one knows what he is buying after the judges have placed the animals.

On our way home we talked about beef cattle. We discussed the shortage in breeding stock and the resulting high prices.

A young farmer from our community bought a yearling bull at the price of $205.00. He has a herd of

Octopus Drags Girl Bather Under Water

Auckland, New Zealand.—A fourteen-year-old girl who was bathing at North shore, was attacked by an octopus, which dragged her under the water in the grip of its tentacles.

An elder brother, who went to her assistance, was also seized by the leg by one tentacle. He tore himself away and by a great effort rescued his sister.

Both brother and sister emerged, swollen and bleeding about the legs, but suffered no serious effects.

This is the first occasion known locally of an octopus having attacked a bather.

50-YEAR HUNT FOR SISTER REWARDED

Eastern Woman Finds Lost Kin in Chicago.

New York.—Fifty years of search for a younger sister who had been placed in an orphan asylum brought unexpected results recently for Mrs. Mary Neumann of Brooklyn, who, rejoicing on her seventy-first birthday anniversary, spoke to her long lost sister for the first time over the long-distance telephone from Chicago.

The sister, Mrs. Catherine Knerr of 7218 South Hermitage avenue, Chicago, was located by Mrs. Neumann when Mrs. Knerr placed an advertisement in a Brooklyn newspaper.

Mrs. Neumann is looking forward eagerly to the reunion which will be arranged at an early date, when Mrs. Knerr will probably come to New York.

This little introduction is merely the culmination of an intensely dramatic story spread over a half century of family life—a family split up by misfortune. Now the last remaining aging threads are being brought together again.

The father was George Nelson, who had gained wide prominence as a building contractor and owned blocks of buildings surrounding his palatial home at 350 East Thirty-second street, New York city. There were four daughters and three sons in the family.

When Mary, now Mrs. Neumann, was fourteen, her mother died. Not long after, Mrs. Neumann tells, her father, who was the Dean Brummett of his time, became infatuated with a woman and moved to New Jersey to live with her.

Catherine, who was then five, was placed in an orphan home along with her two sisters, Mamie and Louise, who were mere babies. Mrs. Neumann was married shortly afterward and she reared her brothers.

From the orphan asylum the three girls were adopted into different families and they eventually lost trace of each other.

Mrs. Neumann for years wrote to all the asylums around New York, but she only succeeded in locating Louise, who has since died.

Mrs. Neumann celebrated her birthday in happiness in her cozy little Brooklyn home at 2845 Atlantic avenue, surrounded by her children and grandchildren. All are familiar with her unflagging search for her sister and are looking forward to her happiness when the reunion takes place.

Icebergs Miles Long

Icebergs float so that almost nine times their visible bulk is submerged. In Baffin bay Sir John Ross saw icebergs aground in 1,500 feet of water. Antarctic icebergs, though rarely over 200 feet in height, are often vast plateaux, table-topped, that have been known to reach 30 miles in length.

Worlds Closely Knit

Men speak of living in one world at a time, as if one world had nothing to do with another, whereas I cannot move a single hoof of earth in my garden without it affecting stars so distant that their light requires millions of years to reach us.—John Andrew Holmes, in Detroit Free Press

Shorthorn cattle that he has inherited from his father but he has decided to improve it by the introduction of a good sire. This will be done by others because as farming becomes more intensive, better type of animals will be found more efficient.

We reached home late in the evening but I will always consider the 16th of February, 1928, one of the great days of my life.

DISGUISED AS GIRL, BOY IS LOCKED UP

Fooled Policemen, Matrons and His Cellmates.

New York.—If you ask the police, probation officers, matrons of Jefferson Market Women's prison and others connected with that institution how it came about, they will undoubtedly tell you it was because girls' and boys' haircuts these days are so much alike.

Anyhow, for three days a cell in the prison held one who was accepted as Jenetta Sheridan, sixteen-year-old runaway from Montreal. Jenetta had been found in a basement apartment with three men.

Detectives dropped in and took the man away on a robbery charge. They didn't quite believe Jenetta's story that she didn't know her companions and merely lived at the same address "with another girl." So they took her to Jefferson Market prison as a wayward minor.

Jenetta was tastefully garbed in a short, high collared black satin dress, green coat, red turban, brown gloves, shower white stockings, and high heeled satin pumps. This costume, it developed later, was intended as a masquerade representing "Peaches" Brownlow.

Jenetta had confided to a probation officer that her mother did not live in Montreal at all, but in Brooklyn, so the mother, Mrs. Lyde Gude, was summoned to court.

When Jenetta's case was called, Mrs. Gude took a long look at the unfamiliar figure and exclaimed:

"I have no daughter. That's my son!"

Magistrate McGuire was so surprised he adjourned court then and there. He took Jenetta, who stood revealed as Edward Schlessinger, eighteen, Mrs. Gude, and the probation officer into his chambers. After satisfying himself the prisoner was a boy he suspended sentence.

The youth and his friend, Edward Walters, went to a masquerade in Harlem as "Peaches" and "Daddy," according to the story he told. They won second prize with the costumes, he said.

Later Walters disappeared, and Edward went to the other lad's home, only to find that his clothes had disappeared, too. So he returned to Harlem and got a job as hostess in the Lulu Belle night club, he asserted.

Several hours later, growing friendly with three men, he told them his predicament and they took him home to the basement apartment on West One Hundred Twenty-third street.

Not only did the detectives not question his sex, according to Edward, formerly Jenetta, but the prison matrons, his cellmate, the prison physician, and the probation officers mistook him for the girl he said he was.

After sentence had been suspended Edward left court with his mother, still disguised as "Peaches."

Preserving Vegetables

Cooked vegetables are those dehydrated by the Cooke-Kelley process. By this method the vitamins are retained and the food will keep indefinitely in powdered form. Spinach, corn and mixed vegetables are among the foods treated in this manner.

Investors Only Losers

Failure of American investors to cash their coupons or to redeem their securities after the interest-bearing date has expired does not especially concern the treasury. When the government obligations which have been tucked away and half forgotten by their owners turn up Uncle Sam is prepared to pay. The only losers are the holders of the government securities which represent just so much idle capital.

Mistletoe Under Ban

A world-wide tradition has it that the mistletoe was the tree from which Eve plucked the forbidden fruit in the Garden of Eden, and the tree was punished by having its fruit reduced to berry size and being forbidden to grow in the ground. All attempts to raise a tree from seed have failed. It remains a parasite, feeding on the life of other trees. But its other use makes us forget its bad habit in that respect.

Silver Guitar

A guitar made of German silver is said to possess great volume, which makes it suitable for orchestral use, while retaining the sweet tone pro-

Yanks in Irak Dig Up
3,500-Year-Old Temple

Philadelphia.—The joint expedition of the American school of oriental research at Bagdad and Harvard university has unearthed at Yargon Tapa, near Kirkuk, Irak, an enormous temple believed by Dr. Edward Chiera, head of the expedition, to have been buried for 3,500 years. Eighty-four large rooms of the temple have thus far been excavated, yielding more than 1,200 tablets, a wealth of pottery and what is believed to be the oldest coat of armor ever found in Irak.

Reporting his discoveries to Dr. George A. Barton of this city, director of the Bagdad school, Doctor Chiera said one of the most remarkable discoveries in the temple was fragments of a mural painting on the plaster of a corridor, the colors of which were preserved and the design clear.

St. Ignatius' Church Notes

Episcopal

Kalendar—Trinity Sunday.
9 45 Church School.
10:30 Morning prayer.
Topic for Trinity is "God is Love."
Church School will begin at 9:45
a. m. next Sunday. The Season of Trinity lasts until December the 2nd, 1929. The entire theme of Trinity Season is God and His Love. It is hoped that those who have pledged themselves to worship their God in summer as well as in winter will remember what a solemn vow and promise that they have taken upon themselves and endeavor to keep and observe the same. O, come and worship the Lord. St. Ignatius' church welcomes you. Why not try and find a church home, it is up to you. We can lead a horse to water but the goodness knows we can't make him drink

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"ANCIENT AND MODERN NEC-ROMANCY, ALIAS MES-MERISM AND HYPNOTISM, DE-MONSTRATED" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 27.

The Golden Text was from Malachi 4:2, "Unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you.
Notwithstanding in this rejoice not,
that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven" (Luke 10:19, 20).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook,
"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:
"Christianity as Jesus taught it was not a creed, nor a system of ceremonies, nor a special gift from a ritualistic Jehovah; but it was the demonstration of divine Love resting out error and healing the sick, not merely in the name of Christ, or Truth, but in demonstration of Truth" (p. 135).

Craze for Titles Seen

Among German People

Reelin.—The craze for titles in Germany is well illustrated in the case of the "harm ducks" of politics. If a man has been a member of the cabinet for ever so brief a period, he will be known for the rest of his life as "Ministerpräsident," which literally means federal minister, retired.

The same thing applies to functionaries of all sorts in the civil service.
An official cares little about his Christian name, but he is jealously watchful of his title. Of the thousands there are two kinds, those who are
"Z.D." (zur Disposition—at the disposal of the authorities, hence subject to recall at any time) and those who are "a.D." (ausser Dienst—out of service, or retired).

The "Z.D." is applied to men who have been retired before they reached the age limit, either because their office was abolished, or because for political reasons it is inexpedient to keep them. The "a.D." normally applies to pensioned officials over sixty five and those discharged for some reason or other.

"a.D.'s" receive a percentage of their salary, based upon the number of years of service. "Z.D.'s" receive their full salary.
